A TEMPbadge is a self-expiring badge– when the front and back are pressed together, it activates the color development. The badge will show a series of red lines or other expiration indicators after a predetermined time frame, making it clear that the guest's visit should be over.

Why use expiring badges:

- Patented color-change technology is highly visible so you know who is/isn't supposed to be in your facility
- Eliminates unauthorized reuse of badges
- Variety of time frames available
- Expiration cannot be reversed

HOW IT WORKS: TWO-PIECE EXPIRING BADGE

MANY MORE BADGES AVAILABLE!

FOR A SIMPLE ONE STEP SOLUTION TRY... ONE-PIECE EXPIRING BADGES

Activate in ONE easy step! Simply peel away the liner, press together and issue to your visitor!

OUR MOST POPULAR OPTION... TWO-PIECE EXPIRING BADGES

DigiLine Badge Printing Guidelines

An Excel spreadsheet containing the variable data must be submitted with all orders. The data on the spreadsheet needs to be clean and accurate as this file is what will be used to print the badges; we do not review for errors/typos.

- Each row of text that you want printed on the badge needs to be in one column (i.e. column A = John Alberston and column B = General Manager). No need to provide column headers.
- All data must be supplied in the appropriate case desired (i.e. JOHN ALBERSTON or John Alberston).
- Font style and size can vary for each row of text (i.e. first row is Times New Roman Bold 18 pt, second row is Times New Roman Italic 14 pt). This will be consistent on all badges unless requested. Please note that a new set-up fee will apply for each change.
- Please note that we only proof 2-3 badges, usually the shortest and longest names and titles. We cannot proof all badges.

An order can be as little as one badge, but it must follow the excel guidelines.

Artwork must be in an .AI or .EPS format.

The artwork will be digitally printed using CMYK color breakdown. We can not Pantone/spot color match, so color match will be approximate.

Badges include a dome finish, unless otherwise requested.

Exact reorders will not receive a new proof and a set-up fee will not apply. A new proof on exact reorders has a $55 net charge.
