

PROMO SPOTLIGHT: Thermometers

Body temperature is an important indicator of health. A higher-than-normal temperature can indicate a bacterial or viral infection. For this reason, thermometers are incredibly useful promotional tools that will be used by your customers to care for themselves and their families for years to come.

A. No Contact

Eliminate the further spread of germs with this no-contact forehead infrared thermometer. CE- and FCC-certified.

B. Brand Builder

Put your logo and company info on this thermometer and it will stay on display through the clear case. The LCD display is easy to read for all ages.

C. Fast Results

You'll know body temperatures in three seconds with this FDA- and CE-certified infrared forehead thermometer. Features include touch or no-touch, optional backlight, fever alarm and low battery indicator.

D. Beep Beep

In addition to a clear digital LCD display, this thermometer makes a sound when the temperature reading is complete. It also has an auto-shut-off feature.

E. What the Doctor Ordered

Add your logo to this plastic thermometer's carrying case. A variety of bold colors are available for imprint, and the thermometer itself comes in three colors.

F. Great for Wellness Programs

American-made, this hinged plastic case houses a thermometer and instructions. The white background is perfect for showcasing your logo or message.
