WHY SHOULD ANY
THIS MATTER TO YOU?

Your clients will put pictures of their loved ones, their videos, their music... Their lives on this product. Don't let them down. If you deliver an inferior product, and it corrupts their computer... Your brand will suffer and you will have an emotional, negative tie with that client.

There is a large oversupply of low-grade flash chips that are able to sell for cheap due to not being able to pass high quality standards. Don't be fooled!

Be sure that your products are made of only the highest quality chips. With 30-40% failure rate, tier 2 and 3 chips can corrupt your files and potentially crash your operating system. If your file gets corrupted, your client won't be able to get your message. If your products are low quality, that is how you will be viewed. There are many websites out there that snatch up this overflow of low quality product, and are selling them at discounted prices.

A faceless internet site can ruin your campaign, ruin your relationship with your client, and ruin the personal things that are important to them.
